

KPIs of Writers

1. SCRIPT QUALITY & STORYTELLING (QA-DRIVEN)

- Consistently meets QA standards for structure, mystery build-up, pacing, language, and engagement
- Delivers scripts that are logically structured and easy to follow
- Maintains originality and avoids repetitive or template-driven writing
- Produces scripts that require minimal editorial and QA intervention
- Handles sensitive content with restraint and responsibility
- Transitions between scenes/sections feel natural and purposeful and audience never feels lost or confused
- Tone remains consistent throughout with respect to victim and unnecessary humor.

Measurement: QA evaluation reports and rejection rate

2. WRITING CRAFT & TECHNIQUE

- Applies effective hooks and suspense techniques throughout the script
- Demonstrates control over narrative flow and point of view
- Shows month-on-month improvement in narrative sophistication
- Key details are revealed gradually and clues feel intentional, not accidental
- No section feels dragged or rushed and emotional moments are given space with pay of promise
- Familiar cases are presented with a fresh angle
- Questions are raised and answered strategically

Measurement: Script reviews feedback

3. TIMELINESS & DELIVERY DISCIPLINE

- Submits all assigned scripts within agreed timelines
- Communicates proactively in case of genuine delays
- Maintains consistency in meeting monthly delivery targets

Measurement: Delivery tracker on clickup

4. VISUAL ALIGNMENT & EDITOR READINESS

- Writes scripts aligned with available footage
- Avoids over-narration and redundancy with visuals
- Structures narration to support pacing and visual storytelling
- Provides clear cues where graphics or animations may be required
- Minimal grammar or structural corrections needed

Measurement: Editor feedback and number of visual correction flags

5. FEEDBACK INCORPORATION & ITERATION

- Incorporates editorial and QA feedback accurately and promptly
- Avoids repetition of previously flagged issues
- Demonstrates visible improvement after feedback cycles

Measurement: Revision count and feedback recurrence tracking

6. QUALITY, ACCURACY & ETHICAL COMPLIANCE

- Ensures all facts, names, dates, and locations are verified
- Maintains consistent naming and neutral, objective language
- Avoids speculation and legally sensitive phrasing
- Completes grammar, plagiarism, and originality checks before submission

Measurement: QA compliance checks and error logs

7. COMMUNICATION & COLLABORATION

- Maintains active and professional communication with editors, QA, and managers
- Participates in discussions, reviews, and team syncs when required
- Raises clarifications or concerns early to avoid rework

Measurement: Team feedback and participation records

8. EFFICIENCY (QUALITY VS TIME)

- Balances speed and quality without last-minute rushes
- Adheres to quality benchmarks consistently without compromise during high pressure or deadline driven situation
- Manages revisions efficiently without impacting timelines

Measurement: Delivery vs quality trend analysis

9. CREATIVE INITIATIVE & INDUSTRY AWARENESS

- Brings new story ideas, formats, or narrative approaches
- Stays updated with genre trends and competitor content
- Applies learnings from external references into scripts

Measurement: Idea contributions and observable experimentation

10. LEARNING, UPSKILLING & GROWTH

- Actively works on improving writing, storytelling, and visual alignment skills
- Studies and applies new techniques relevant to the mystery/crime genre
- Demonstrates continuous improvement over time

Measurement: Learning discussions and quality progression

11. OWNERSHIP, ACCOUNTABILITY & PROFESSIONALISM

- Takes responsibility for assigned scripts end-to-end
- Owns mistakes and resolves issues without deflection
- Maintains professional conduct and respects team processes and members

Measurement: Manager observation and cross-team feedback

